About: Over 30 years, our team has created 300 projects of varying complexity and volume. Large or small projects, which are held by people as customers and people as performers, all these projects are done for other people for consumers. Our end customers are our true customers.. We design furniture, lamps, decor items of serial production for the end consumer-buyer, and our customer, the manufacturer in this chain plays the main role of the industrial and service partner. The efforts of the design studio SV & Partners and our partner manufacturers are concentrated on the creation and production of the "product" demanded by the consumer. The product of product design developed by us has a commercial life cycle of 3 years or more. We have "products" that have been successfully produced and sold for 15 years.
